As STAC has attempted to diversify how we deliver officiating services, we recognized the need for a National Technical Official located in the southern half of the province. Peggy Martin McGuire volunteered to fill this position in 2010 and undertook the training to become an NTO. Peggy attended the NTO workshop in the summer of 2010 in Kelowna and is now a National Technical Official for triathlon. When Peggy offered to undertake this training, the STAC Board was in unanimous and enthusiastic support.

The benefits of having Peggy as an NTO for Saskatchewan triathlon are diverse. Peggy gives us expertise in Regina to help lead officials clinics, head-referee races and mentor our southern officials to ensure we have safe and fair races and events.

Peggy is an ideal candidate for this position. She has a great amount of experience as a Technical Official for swimming; she is actually a master official for the sport. Peggy also has served as a race director for triathlons, including today's Manulife Splash and Sprint Indoor Duathlon the Regina Multisport Club hosted this evening.

Previously, Peggy had completed the Level 2 officials training as a triathlon official and had served as a triathlon official at numerous races in Saskatchewan. In 2010, Peggy officiated at Kelowna Nationals, the Icebreaker KOS event and the Brent Gibson Memorial Icebreaker and the See Jane Tri race in the summer.

Peggy is also now on the STAC Officials Committee bringing more expertise and great event experience to help STAC plan for the future of officiating in the province.
